

2020 – 2021 Family Survey

We want to hear from you!

This past school year will definitely be one we will never forget, not only due to the challenges we faced with the pandemic, but also because of the year we got to enjoy your child in our Tempe PRE program!

We will be sending out an on-line survey to all of our enrolled families to get your feedback on the Tempe PRE program and your child's experience. The survey will only be open for two weeks so please be sure to complete it as soon as you receive it in your email. Our goal is to collect your feedback and track our progress as well as determine ways we can make improvements. Thank you in advance for your feedback and your ongoing support of Tempe PRE!

Where We Learn

THE THIRD TEACHER...

In high quality early learning classrooms, the environment is often considered as a “third teacher.” Where children learn, the spaces that are created for their exploration, can mean as much as the teacher's support or their peer to peer interaction.

INVITING CHILDREN TO LEARN...

When children arrive in our classrooms, they enter a prepared environment in which learning materials are organized and displayed in ways that make children want to come in and get started. Teachers rotate learning materials frequently so there is always something new to discover.

PURPOSE IN EACH AREA...

Our classrooms are organized and arranged into Learning Centers. Different areas are designated for Blocks & Building, Math & Manipulatives, Library, Science & Sensory, Dramatic Play, Writing, Music and Art. Children have many opportunities to choose their own materials or work with friends.

LEARNING AT HOME...

Your home is also a wonderful learning environment for your child! Literacy happens naturally as books are always available around the house. Math learning can happen as you allow your child to help count out silverware in setting the table. Bath time bubbles are excellent science experiments. Be creative in designing learning with your child and have fun!
